Large Village House in Casarabonela

This large village house is located towards the centre of the village and so offers excellent access to all the local amenities that Casarabonela has to offer. The property itself is very large and could be converted in to one or two smaller apartments. As you enter the property you are greeted by a spacious hallway, which gives access to the rest of the house. Located on the ground floor are a very large lounge, kitchen, bathroom and two other additional rooms. Outside there is an attractive walled courtyard area which then leads up to a roof terrace, which has some great views out across the countryside. On the first floor there are six large rooms, some of which are currently being used as work shop and office space. There is also a large family size bathroom. This is a very impressive house not only in terms of its size but also in terms of character. It could be converted in to at least two spacious apartments and would make a great investment for any potential buyer.
