Village house in El Burgo

This charming village house has been carefully renovated and keeps much of its Spanish 'flavour'. The lounge is tastefully decorated and has at its heart a feature fireplace. The ceiling is lined with beams, which gives the whole place a traditional feeling. The kitchen is small but adequate and has again been tiled with traditional tiles. Also located on the ground floor is a bathroom with W/C, sink and shower. The first floor has two good-sized double bedrooms, which again reflect the traditional feel of the ground floor of the property. One bedroom has its own balcony. In addition there is also a very nice family bathroom. A very attractive village house, which has been tastefully decorated. It is ready to move in to and viewing is highly recommended. All furniture is also included !
