House in Yunquera

This attractive five-bedroom house really does offer great value for money. This substantial property would make a great family home and is located within easy reach of all local amenities. Outside the house boasts some 3,000 sq meters of land, some of which is covered in grass, a real rarity in this part of Spain. There is also a bbq and water deposit, which could be converted in to a swimming pool. Inside the property you are greeted by a good size lounge and kitchen, which have a very rustic, feel to them. Also on this floor there is a large bathroom and very spacious bedroom. On the first floor there are another four bedrooms, which make this a very spacious house. In addition to all the above there are also some truly magnificent views. This is a great property and viewing is highly recommended.
